

Not all smartphones are created equal. The same can also be said about phone cases.

Apple's iPhone has been the gold standard of smartphones for years now and their iPhone X model is certainly no exception. It is, therefore, only proper that such a high-end device be protected and embellished with an equally top-notch case. This ostrich leather iPhone X case certainly fits the bill.

This premium case is the perfect blend of exotic and elegant, stylish and unique. Meticulously handcrafted in France and with an exterior made from carefully selected genuine ostrich leather, this plush accessory provides a distinct look and texture unlike any other cases.

The camera ring and logo come in several metal finishes that you can choose from: stainless steel, plated black gold, plated rose gold, or plated gold – all of which only further accentuate the sophisticated design of the case. Truly a luxury accessory for a luxury phone.